What makes this home unique:

What makes our home truly special is the sense of fun, togetherness, and energy that everyone brings. We pride ourselves on creating a lively, inclusive environment where people feel comfortable being themselves and enjoying shared experiences.

We regularly come together for activities such as game nights, board games, and karaoke sessions, which are always a big hit. Music is a big part of life in our home – whether it's singing, dancing, or taking part in music and dance fitness sessions, there is always something happening that brings people together and lifts everyone's mood.

We enjoy celebrating special occasions with parties and themed events, creating moments that people look forward to and remember. These shared experiences help build strong relationships, confidence, and a real sense of belonging.

Our home is best suited to individuals who enjoy being social, engaging with others, and taking part in group activities. At the same time, we fully respect each person's choice and support those who may prefer quieter time when they need it.

From the home:

“I’m passionate about promoting independence, creating a safe and welcoming space, and making every day meaningful through choice and new experiences. I started as a support worker wanting to make a difference- and that’s still at the heart of everything I do”.

- Home Manager

“I have peace of mind knowing my loved one is supported to be independent while still feeling safe. They’re encouraged to make their own choices, which has made such a positive difference”.
