Whitney's successes

One of Whitney's proudest achievements was the way she responded during a serious and unexpected emergency. She remained calm, focused and reassuring, using her crisis management skills to take quick and appropriate action while helping to keep the person safe.

The experience showed Whitney's ability to think clearly under pressure and offer reassurance and direction when it mattered most. It also strengthened her belief in the importance of good training, preparation and supporting team members to feel confident in challenging situations.

“Seeing the people we support grow in confidence and achieve positive outcomes is what makes the role so rewarding.”
