Achieve together

Welcome to Rochester House, Medway

Home profile number: 564

Service type: Residential Age: 18+ Capacity: 10 Gender: Mixed

What makes this home unique:

Rochester House offers a warm and welcoming environment where every person is valued, understood and supported to feel at home.

There are opportunities to take part in activities that reflect each person's interests, including weekly singing and dancing sessions, bingo, film nights and meals out. With support tailored to individual needs, people can also enjoy experiences such as trampolining and bowling. Families are encouraged to visit and remain involved in their loved ones' lives.

The team values the everyday moments that help each person feel happy and confident, with support focused on dignity, choice and independence.

Location:

Based in Rochester, Rochester House gives people easy access to everyday amenities and enjoyable days out. The historic high street is ideal for browsing independent shops, stopping for a drink or meal and enjoying the town's character. Nearby green spaces, including The Vines and Churchfields, offer peaceful places for walks, picnics and fresh air.

Rochester's history provides plenty to discover. People can explore the castle and cathedral, learn about local life at the Guildhall Museum, or follow links to Charles Dickens, who spent part of his childhood in Medway and drew inspiration from Rochester's buildings, places and people for several of his stories.

Rochester railway station and local bus services make it easy to reach nearby towns, shopping centres, leisure activities and destinations across Kent, supporting greater choice and varied days out.
