Achieve together

Welcome to Mill Hayes, Staffordshire

Home profile number: 767

Service type: Residential Age: 18+ Capacity: 7 Gender: Mixed

What makes this home unique:

Mill Hayes supports people with mental health needs to move from long-term hospital care into a supportive residential environment, with a focus on emotional wellbeing and greater independence. Personalised living spaces offer room to relax and spend time alone, alongside opportunities to connect with others.

Each person has their own studio bedroom with a lounge area and ensuite bathroom, which they are supported to personalise with photos and belongings. Communal lounges, kitchens, a conservatory and gardens provide welcoming spaces for shared activities and social events, helping people enjoy everyday life as they settle into their new home.

Location:

Situated on the edge of the bustling village of Knypersley, just north of Stoke-on-Trent, the area is known for its picturesque countryside, historic architecture, and tranquil atmosphere.

The village itself offers a range of outdoor activities, such as hiking and cycling, with scenic trails that lead through lush greenery and rolling hills. There are local shops, cafés, and pubs for daily needs, while Stoke-on-Trent is a short drive away or can be accessed by bus.

From the home:

"I love living here because I can wear T-shirts with cheeky things written on them and I can watch whatever I like on the telly."

- Person supported at this home

"We love to personalise the home and the rooms of the people we support with plenty of photos of activities to make the home feel like it really belongs to the people that live here."
